Dear Chairman Bosco:

The support of the California Coastal Conservancy for the California Coastal Trail Association (CCTA) is critical to implementing the first goal listed in the Coastal Conservancy's Strategic Plan, "[d]evelop the California Coastal Trail as a major recreational amenity, tourist attraction, and alternative transportation system." That is why I am writing to respectfully encourage your continued involvement and assistance.

While the Coastal Conservancy is the lead State agency in implementing the California Coastal Trail, collaboration between many branches of State and local government as well as NGOs and the public, will be required to make the Trail successful. The CCTA provides a sorely needed forum for communication and collaboration between all these stakeholders as well as being an organization that promotes the Trail to the public. The CCTA is a key partner is assisting the Conservancy to achieve its goal.

Although the CCTA is a relatively new organization, it has already attracted all fifteen coastal county governments to become Charter members. The CCTA enjoys wide geographic support and local governments want to fully participate in ensuring the Trail's future. We are excited to be a part of an organization that will facilitate sharing non-motorized transportation plans and maps regionally, promotes walking and healthy recreation to the public and is working to bring all Trail stakeholders to the table as we work together on completing the CCT.

The California Coastal Trail is loved by the public, attracts tourism and provides a significant contribution to our local economy. As a San Diego County Supervisor with a coastal district, I enthusiastically support the work and goals of the CCTA.

Thank you for your consideration of this important program that is vital to the California Coastal Trail's future.

Sincerely,

Santa Cruz County has been doing its part to make the CCT become a reality. With a $6.3 million grant from the Federal Highway Administration, the California Coastal Commission and Land Trust of Santa Cruz County each putting in $3 million and more than $1 million respectively, along with local funds, we have financed more than eight miles of trail.

Thank you for considering funding for this important program that is vital to the California Coastal Trail's future.

Dear Chairman Bosco:

I am writing in support of continuing Coastal Conservancy Grant support for the California Coastal Trail Association (CCTA). The CCTA is critical to implementing the first goal listed in the Coastal Conservancy's Strategic Plan, "Develop the California Coastal Trail as a major recreational amenity, tourist attraction, and alternative transportation system".

As First District Supervisor for Santa Barbara County, I know first-hand the importance that the California Coastal Trail has for both residents and businesses alike. The California Coastal Trail is loved by the public, attracts tourism and provides a significant contribution to our local economy. As a dues paying member of the CCTA, the County of Santa Barbara enthusiastically supports its work and goals.

The CCTA provides a sorely needed forum for communication and collaboration between the various stakeholders working to build and maintain the Trail. While the Coastal Conservancy is the lead State agency in implementing the California Coastal Trail, the CCTA coordinates the required collaboration between many branches of State and local government as well as NGOs and the public that is necessary to make the Trail successful.

Although the CCTA is a new organization, it has already attracted all fifteen coastal county governments to become Charter members. The CCC grant provides an important opportunity to further facilitate sharing non-motorized transportation plans and maps regionally, promote walking and healthy recreation to the public and efforts to bring all Trail stakeholders to the table to complete the California Coastal Trail.

Thank you for your consideration and support of this important program that is vital to the California Coastal Trail's future.

Sincerely,

Dear Chairman Bosco,

I am writing to express support of continuing Coastal Conservancy Grant funding for the California Coastal Trail Association (CCTA). The CCTA is critical to implementing the first goal listed in the Coastal Conservancy's Strategic Plan, "Develop the California Coastal Trail as a major recreational amenity, tourist attraction, and alternative transportation system".

The City of Carpinteria has been working to complete the three mile stretch in our jurisdiction for many years and understands how critical the CCTA can be in making the California Coastal Trail a reality. While the Coastal Conservancy is the lead State agency in implementing the California Coastal Trail, collaboration between many branches of State and local government as well as NGOs and the public, will be required to make the Trail successful. The CCTA provides an essential forum for communication and collaboration among all these stakeholders as well as being an organization that promotes the Trail to the public. The CCTA is a key partner in assisting the Conservancy to achieve its Goal #1.

Although the CCTA is a new organization, it has attracted many local coastal governments to become Charter members. I am proud to say the City of Carpinteria is one. This shows that the CCT enjoys wide geographic support and that local government wants to fully participate in ensuring the Trail's future. We are excited to be a part of an organization that will facilitate sharing non-motorized transportation plans and maps regionally, that promotes walking and healthy recreation to the public and that is working to bring all Trail stakeholders to the table as we work together on completing the CCT.

The California Coastal Trail is loved by the public, attracts tourism and provides a significant contribution to our local economy. As a dues paying member of the CCTA, the City of Carpinteria enthusiastically supports the work and goals of the CCTA.

Thank you for considering funding for this important program that is vital to the California Coastal Trail's future.
